Bundles and complementary offers: Application of the tariff scheme applied on the device, by addition of a) the storage capacity of the carrier and b) the storage capacity of the device.

- I. The tariff applicable to recording devices sold with one or several recording capacities (example: memory card, external hard disc) in a unique prize, under the same packaging or under several packaging set together ("bundle") or sold separately but obviously intended to be used together ("complementary offer") is made by the addition of the recording capacities of the carrier and the one of the device, this global capacity being invoiced with the tariff scheme of the device.
- II. No remuneration shall be paid for recording capacities sold in "bundle" or "complementary offer" with a device whose recording capacities are not submitted to a private copying levy.
